Explanation of changes and other important information

We assessed your return and you have a balance due. If you paid this balance and your payment is not appearing on this notice, please note it may take up to 10 business days for your payment to be reflected in our system. If you have not paid this balance, you can avoid additional interest charges by paying the full amount by July 9, 2018. You can view your account balance and statement of account online using My Account. You can also use the CRA's Individual Tax Account Balance Automated Service by calling 1-866-474-8272. This service is available seven days a week and allows you to quickly get your account balance and information about your last payment. You will be asked to provide your social insurance number, your date of birth, and the amount reported at line 150 on your tax return.

We changed your federal dividend tax credit to $4,174.80. This tax credit is a percentage of the taxable amount of dividends from taxable Canadian corporations and cannot be more than your total federal income tax.

Since you claimed an amount for medical expenses, you, your spouse or common-law partner or your dependant may be entitled to the disability tax credit. For more information, see Guide RC4064, Disability-Related Information, or go to canada.ca/disability-credits-deductions.

Your balance due includes arrears interest compounded daily at a set rate. We calculated this interest from the due date of your balance to the date of this notice.
